1. Educational Nature

Atlas Trade Academy is a community and platform of an exclusively educational and informational nature, dedicated to the development of knowledge, discipline, and responsibility in the financial markets. All content made available – including courses, classes, materials, lives, analyses, and events – is of a didactic nature and must not be interpreted as individualized investment advice.

2. No Financial Advice

Atlas Trade Academy does not provide securities consulting, asset management, financial intermediation, or investment advisory services. The content DOES NOT constitute a recommendation, offer, solicitation, or indication to buy, sell, or hold any assets, securities, or financial instruments.

No information made available by the platform should be regarded as personalized advice. The user should seek qualified professionals duly authorized by the competent regulatory bodies before making any investment decision.

3. Financial Market Risks

Operating in the financial markets involves high risks and may not be suitable for all investor profiles. Transactions with financial assets, derivatives, and leveraged products may result in losses that exceed the capital initially invested.

By using Atlas Trade Academy's content, the user declares that they understand and fully assume the risks inherent to their activity in the markets, including the possibility of total or partial loss of capital.

4. No Guarantee of Results

Atlas Trade Academy does not promise, guarantee, or ensure results, profitability, gains, or performance of any kind. Past results do not constitute a guarantee of future results. Examples, simulations, case studies, and scenarios presented are for purely illustrative and educational purposes.

5. Testimonials and Materials

Any testimonials, accounts, or stories from participants reflect individual and personal experiences and do not represent a promise or guarantee that other users will obtain similar results. Materials and content may be updated at any time and do not replace in-depth study, practice, and independent professional guidance.

6. Partnership with HubFloor

Atlas Trade Academy maintains a strategic partnership with HubFloor, a company specialized in technology and digital infrastructure for the financial market. HubFloor acts exclusively as a provider of technology and infrastructure, making available tools, virtual environments, and technological resources.

Investment and trading decisions are made independently by each user. Atlas Trade Academy and HubFloor are not responsible for such decisions or for their results.

7. Third-Party Technologies and Platforms

In the course of their activities, users may access third-party technologies, tools, and digital environments, as well as third-party platforms, including brokers, dealers, trading platforms, and other financial institutions (“Third-Party Platforms”), always on their own account, initiative, and responsibility.

Atlas Trade Academy is NOT a broker, dealer, financial institution, asset manager, or intermediary; it does not open accounts, does not raise funds, does not hold assets in custody, and does not execute orders or transactions on behalf of users. Atlas does not indicate, recommend, endorse, or guarantee any broker or Third-Party Platform, and does not necessarily maintain any commercial relationship, corporate affiliation, or partnership with such institutions.

Any mention, integration, or partnership, where it exists, is of a purely technical or informational nature and does not constitute a recommendation to contract. The relationship involving account opening, deposits, custody, withdrawals, and the execution of transactions takes place exclusively between the user and the chosen Third-Party Platform, and is governed by its terms, conditions, and policies.

Atlas Trade Academy is not responsible, in any way, for acts, omissions, availability, security, suitability, results, failures, losses, or damages related to third-party technologies and Third-Party Platforms. It is the user's responsibility to assess independently and diligently the regularity, authorization, and conditions of any third party before contracting or using it.

8. User Responsibility

Each user is solely and fully responsible for their own decisions and for the results arising from them. By using the platform's content and services, the user acknowledges that they act at their own account and risk, based on their own analysis, judgment, and risk tolerance profile.

9. Limitation of Liability

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, Atlas Trade Academy, its partners, employees, business partners, and guests are not responsible for any losses, damages, financial harm, or loss of profits, direct or indirect, arising from the use of the information, content, or services made available, as well as from the decisions taken by the user based on them.

By accessing and using the services of Atlas Trade Academy, the user declares that they have read, understood, and fully accepted this Legal Disclaimer.
